

Struggling to survive among foreigners?

Looking for a better understanding with a collaborator or a client of a different nationality?

Learn how to turn cultural differences to your advantage!

Endeavour across borders workshops in cross-culture communication

For all those working with people of different nationalities or brought to live among them:

- for managers and members of multi-national teams
- for professionals relocating to a different country and their relatives
- for those negotiating,
collaborating across borders...

What makes these workshops unique:

- original tailored contents (e.g. nationality-specific variants)
- multilingual trainer
with international experience
- small groups
- minimum theory, maximum practice
- highly interactive group activities (added bonus: team-building)
